

Blog: Drop the Mic!

Thanks to you, our success has been multi-faceted!

This month, in addition to our regular blogging, we wanted to extend a sincere thank you for all of our AV colleagues that have made Clockaudio a success for the last 25+ years.

Yes, we design and build products that are hyper focused on sound quality because sound is our business. However, the ability to stay connected to the people that specify AV products and the people that use them is what consistently helps us adapt, change and grow.

In fact, some of our best products and product updates have come from the ideas of AV professionals like you. For example, last month at Infocomm we launched TIM-1000, our Tracking Intelligent Microphone in response to the growing need to provide uniform sound levels, high sound quality and clean sight lines in today's huddle spaces, conference and boardrooms.

The applications for TIM are virtually limitless. At the forefront of its design is adaptability and flexibility which provides just what today's client (and the integrators that install it) are looking for - simplicity and ease of installation.

Whether you are an end-user that sees the value in purchasing Clockaudio products, an integrator or installer who seamlessly implements our technologies, or a consultant and specifier that wants the best for their clients, your confidence in our products and in our remarkable team of representatives has made it possible to celebrate 25 years in AV.

We are grateful and thank you for being a long-standing part of Clockaudio's success!

"I think Clockaudio's success has been based on innovation, being good listeners, and being able to adapt to an ever-changing market and world. It can also be attributed to our ability to create custom products, a desire to stay true to ourselves and surrounding ourselves with great people.
