Clockaudio Announces Manufacturer Partnership with Audinate with the Introduction of the CDT-100 Transporter

June 10, 2015 – Waterlooville, Hampshire, United Kingdom – Clockaudio, a global leader in pro-av microphone technologies based in the UK and with offices in North America and Asia, has announced a strategic manufacturer partnership with Audinate, the market leader in digital media networking for the A/V, conferencing, public address and broadcast industries and integrates Dante protocol in its CDT-100 Transporter.

As one of Audinate’s manufacturer partners, Clockaudio and its CDT-100 Transporter will be on the “Wall of Fame” display on a large wall in the Audinate Booth #827 at InfoComm15, June 17 – 19th in Orlando, Florida. The wall will showcase Dante-enabled devices across the spectrum. Clockaudio is proud to have its CDT-100 Transporter as part of this de facto standard in audio networking display.

In response to the need to streamline data and power cables for boardrooms, conference rooms, and video conference rooms, the CDT-100 reduces cabling requirements from multiple and individual microphones from the conference table to the AV cabinet.

This advanced professional Dante communication product combines audio and control transport using network based Dante protocol. By taking advantage of the Dante technology and based on the high performance and pre-configurable hardware platform, this product transfers audio and control signals via widely used Ethernet for perfect sound quality.

CLOCKAUDIO

“We are excited to partner with Clockaudio on their CDT-100 Transporter product,” explains Lee Ellison, Audinate CEO. “Dante’s audio over IP technology is quickly becoming the leader in the A/V and conference solutions industry, and this partnership will ensure that clients get the highest quality digital audio throughout the entire audio stream.”

Audinate is promoting its Dante Everywhere campaign at the show and Clockaudio will be displaying signs supporting the manufacturer alliance in its Booth #451. To participate, InfoComm attendees just need to take pictures of “Dante Spoken Here” signs at the show and share them on Twitter, Facebook or Instagram using the hashtag #DanteEverywhere. Every participant posting at least 5 pictures will get a Dante T-Shirt, and everyone will be entered into a drawing for free copies of Dante Via and the grand prize, an Apple Watch.
