Clockaudio Releases Two New Case Studies Highlighting International Assignments

September 13, 2016 – Waterlooville, Hampshire, United Kingdom, Clockaudio, a global leader in pro-av microphone technologies based in the UK and with offices in North America and Asia, is proud to announce the publication of two international case studies.

The first publication focused on The Technical University of Munich, a university known for its academic excellence and firm belief in hands on education. At the heart of their campus, Clockaudio helped to equip and update their medical training facility. The facility is used by healthcare students and professionals and demonstrates learning through simulation scenarios. Clockaudio's C005E interface microphones were installed in the simulation rooms and are available for use by teachers. Through Clockaudio's involvement they were able to provide the University of Munich with a state of the art teaching facility.

Clockaudio also serviced the Parliament of Luxembourg's, Chamber of Deputies. The technology previously installed in the facility was severely outdated. The now updated Chamber of Deputies utilizes Clockaudio's gooseneck microphones enabling them to engage in crystal clear political debate and discussion.
